Phi Kappa Delta

The 37-38 crop of Buccaneer bull-slingers covered the map like red ink.

The first point reached was the Dixie Forensic Tournament at Winthrop College, Rock Hill, South Carolina. Then, Earl Hunt and Phyllis Phlegar led their seven team mates by copping, respectively, second place in impromptu speaking, and third place in women's oratory. This happened in early December.

Come mid February we follow the line to Boone, North Carolina, where we find the Hunt boy shining more brightly than ever; this time with second places in debating and in impromptu in the Appalachian Forensic meet. Nine also made this trip.

Before the month of February is out, two team members of the female species carry the red strip off on a short tangent, and grab off honors in the Women's Smokey Mountain tournament at Bristol. Margarete Rumbley led the day with first place in oratory, closely followed by Phyllis Phlegar with third place in the same, plus second place in poetry reading.

The girls liked the Smokey Mountain crowd so well that early March found us entertaining their men folk in a tournament on our own campus. The affair went over nicely, thanks to student and faculty cooperation.

Toward the end of March the line stretches out across the state where we find four of our freshmen grabbing off the two best places in the Tennessee State Freshman meet at Maryville. Some freshmen.

PI KAPPA DELTA

Not to be outdone, however, upper classmen Sabin, Gross, and Belvin, accompanied as always, by their coach, Mr. R. B. Cox, took off ten days in the latter part of April to climax the season with some real line stretching. Westward to Morristown; then northward, and westward again across Kentucky, Indiana, Missouri, and Kansas to—to where? Why Topeka, Kansas, and the Pi Kappa Delta National Convention.

On debate the boys won good comparative rating among the 850 tip-top representatives of the 150 colleges and universities in the largest single organization, of its kind, in the world. However, Neil Sabin of last year's after-dinner speaking fame was not to be contented with average honors, so he entered the Student Stunt Night Contest, with his humorous mountain stories and captured the first place for Teachers College, and a beautiful silver cup for himself. The program was broadcasted over the Columbia Network.

Sidelights of the season's main program, as outlined above, include valuable service rendered, and valuable experience gained by team members, judging in numerous high school speech tournaments; invitations filled by Sabin, Hunt, and Belvin to speak before local and nearby civic organizations; a large number of schedule debates with visiting and visited colleges; and attendance of team members at intercollegiate debates judged by their coach, Mr. Cox.

The following cabinet members have worked hard this year to make the organization a success:

President	MARGARET ARMSTRONG
Vice-President	DOROTHY STOUT
Secretary-Treasurer	MARION EDMONDSON
Business Manager	CHARLOTTE HAMBRIGHT
Assistant Business Manager	MARY FRANCES KELLEY
Pianists	IRENE REYNOLDS, ELIZABETH KING
Chorister	LUCILLE DOSSETT
Custodian	CATHERINE LOVE

Through the genuine cooperation of our members and program committees many interesting programs have been given at vespers and Y. W. C. A. meetings during this year.

Much pleasure was gained from the usual Christmas Party given to the unfortunate children of Johnson City.

Music

The music organizations have had a very busy year with many engagements on and away from the campus. The band unit now numbers about fifty and continued growth is anticipated. It has participated in parades, played at athletic events, and has given numerous concerts in and about Johnson City. The Glee Club and Choir started a busy season by participating in the great massed chorus of the Appalachian Choral Societies in the rendition of Handel's "Messiah" at Christmas time. The orchestra also participated in this. Possibly the high spot of the year for these organizations was the production of Charles Gounod's opera, "Faust," in which the vocal organizations and orchestra took part.

The Student Activities Committee has recently granted permission to the Director of Music to award an STC monogram to outstanding students in the various musical organizations.

The Footlight Players were organized during the Fall Quarter, 1937, under the leadership of Miss Ella Ross, an alumna of the College and now in the Education Department.

The purpose of the club is to increase the interest in dramatics, further the knowledge and appreciation of stage productions, and to give special training such as public school teachers are expected to have.

The Footlight Players made their first appearance in the college auditorium on the evening of May 12, 1938. The productions were:

"Wedding Bells," directed by Mable Wallin.

"Cloudburst," directed by Charlotte Brown.
